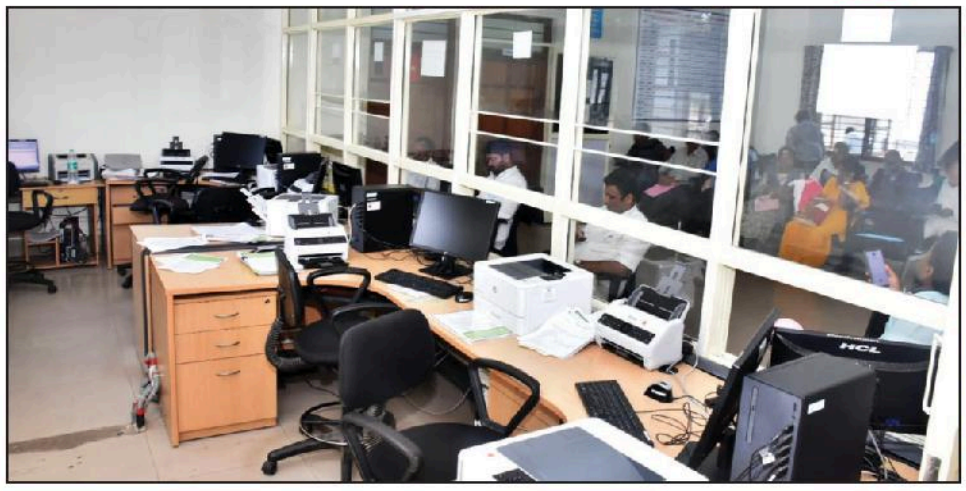
Kaveri 2.0 server glitch hits Sub-Registrar Offices



EMPTY CHAIRS INSIDE, PEOPLE WAIT OUTSIDE: This was the scene at the Sub-Registrar's Office in Mini Vidhana Soudha, Nazarbad, this morning following a technical snag in Kaveri 2.0 online service portal. Similar was the scene at other Sub-Registrar Offices across the city.

Mysuru, Feb. 21 (RK&BCT)- Registration and transactional activities came to a grinding halt at all the Sub-Registrar Offices in Mysuru due to a technical glitch and an unresponsive server of the Kaveri 2.0 online service portal.

Consequently, these offices experienced a surge in foot traffic and long queues throughout the day, with not a single payment gateway functioning. This failure placed citizens under severe hardship and resulted in significant revenue losses for the Government.

Online services like registration fees/stamp duty, marriage fees, encumbrance certificate fees, certified copy fees, firm registration, estimated guidance value and generating challan are available for the public on the software and today, these services were not available.

Officials informed Star of Mysore that the issue was not isolated to Mysuru alone but was encountered across the State. State authorities and technicians are actively investigating the server problem. "The server initially functioned this morning but began experiencing intermittent outages lasting for five to 10 minutes at regular intervals. By 10.45 am, the entire system became unresponsive, disrupting the process," stated a Sub-Registrar in Mysuru and Nanjangud.

The five Sub-Registrar Offices in the city are at Mysuru East (Dr. Rajkumar Road), Mysuru West (near Vijayanagar Water Tank), Mysuru North (Mini Vidhana Soudha, Nazarbad), Mysuru South (Ramakrishnanagar) and MUDA Office. There are nine Sub-Registrar Offices in Mysuru district — T. Narasipur, Bannur, Nanjangud, K.R. Nagar, Mirle, Periyapatna, Bettadapura, Hunsur and H.D. Kote.

The upgraded Kaveri 2.0, a property registration online service portal, was rolled out by the Department of Stamps and Registration in September last year. This is the upgraded version of Kaveri 1.0, to simplify the process as the first version failed to meet the purpose.

A few who were waiting in queues said that, they were finding it difficult to make payments through net banking, NEFT and RTGS. Due to technical problems, the payment of registration fees made through net banking on the system failed. Once the payment fails, users have to restart the application from the beginning, a property owner said.

Kaveri 2.0 was introduced for a smooth and transparent transaction. The new web-based application, works in three phases — pre-registration, registration and post-registration. People are expected to visit Sub-Registrar's Office only for registration after an appointment. Now, this new system is facing server issues.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

When you are fractured inside, you cannot feel integrated and whole. In this situation, naturally, you feel torn apart, especially when faced with challenges; you are anxious about rights and wrongs, duties and responsibilities, attachments and desires. How can you make yourself complete; how to feel united within so that you are able to become one with the entire universe?

Raj Vidya, the foundation and principle of dharma, frees us from all limitations and sorrows, says Krishn to Arjun. The Pandav prince was going through existential angst on the battlefield at Kurukshetra, faced with having to wage war with his own kith and kin. Imparting knowledge of infinity to Arjun, in Bhagavad Gita's ninth chapter, Krishn reveals that Anant, the permanent Infinite which is reality beyond joys and sorrows, is universal consciousness, truth, that some call Ishwar, the ultimate cause of all creation. Anant is spread out in akash, space, comprehended through knowledge which gives you direct experience and wisdom, revealing the light within and without, enabling you to know anand, bliss. Once you amalgamate anant, akash and anand into your very being, you get to transcend the limitations of material existence. You will become what we could call a 'Triple A' personality, manifesting anant, akash and anand deep within your being that connects you seamlessly to universal consciousness.

For all of this to happen, first, you need to yearn to learn; be willing to be taught and to imbibe, so that you experience expansion of mind and consciousness that lead you to see the wider, infinite canvas. Important ingredients in this process are faith, diligence and humility. Body, mind and intellect that make up prakriti, the lower self, are finite tools that facilitate the journey from self to Self, to reach into and merge with infinity, consciousness, that is omnipresent in akash, space, and experience anand, bliss. When the merger happens, there is no difference between jiva and Self. —Narayani Ganesh in The Times of India

Ghost-free home certifying service

Chiang Mai: A couple of enterprising students from Thailand have come up with an innovative business strategy – sleeping in problematic houses and apartments to certify that they are free of ghosts and paranormal phenomena.

21-year-old Wifei Cheng, a Thai-Taiwanese student at Rajamangala University of Technology Lanna in Chiang Mai province, knew about the problems realtors had selling properties where deaths had been reported in the past, and decided that there was a market for ghost-free home certifiers. And who better for the job that himself and his colleague and associate, 22-year-old Sretthawut Boonprakhong? The pair started advertising their services on social media, offering to sleep in problematic houses and apartments and then issue ghost-free certificates to put buyers' and renters' minds at ease.

Tattoo artist detained for hurting Christian sentiments

St. Petersburg: A young tattoo artist from St. Petersburg, Russia, was recently detained for insulting religious believers with controversial tattoos featuring Jesus Christ, the cross and other Christian symbols.

Daria Krichker is facing up to one year in jail for her crimes. According to the Orthodox activist group that filed a complaint against her, she has committed "repeated gross blasphemous acts against Christ, the Mother of God and the saints of the Church," which "cannot be tolerated on Russian soil. It all started earlier this month when photos of a tattoo reportedly inked on Krichker's calf went viral on social media. It showed Jesus on the cross having an orgasm, which isn't the kind of creative work that religious people would appreciate. It's weird, many would describe it as disgusting, but in Russia, such a tattoo can literally land you behind bars.

Let MCC not stop its new-found commitment to road safety

Sir,

The news regarding the decision of the Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) to finally enforce safety measures is indeed a welcome development. It comes after the tragic and untimely loss of four lives due to the negligence of the MCC staff.

There are numerous poorly constructed road humps scattered throughout Mysuru City, many of which are nothing more than vertical mounds of asphalted jelly stones masquerading as road humps. These humps not only fail to serve their purpose as speed-breakers but also pose a serious threat to both vehicles and passengers.

Accountability for these hazardous road conditions should begin with the contractors responsible for the road asphalting, as well as the field staff who overlook the inadequate construction. It should not be a challenging task to construct well-designed road humps with proper zebra stripes, yet the lethargic approach of Government staff in adhering to contract agreements perpetuates these dangers to the public.

Furthermore, the absence of reflectors on concrete dividers, particularly along high-traffic roads like KRS Road, poses additional risks to motorists. Despite repeated concerns raised by readers of Star of Mysore, the Government's inaction on this matter has been disappointing.

It is hoped that the MCC's new-found commitment to safety will extend to ensuring that all road dividers are equipped with visible reflectors, thereby enhancing the safety of motorists. It is imperative that such measures are implemented promptly and effectively to prevent further tragedies caused by negligence and oversight.

Neonatal Intensive Care Unit upgraded at Sigma Hospital

Dr. Rajeshwari

Dr. Nanditha

Dr. Kanya

Mysuru, Feb. 21- The Neonatal Intensive Care Unit (NICU) at Sigma Hospital in city has been upgraded to provide care for new-born babies that are either sick or born much earlier than their due date (before 37 weeks of pregnancy) and require medical or surgical care. The word "neonate" means a new-born, less than 28 days of age. Doctors delivering care for neonates are called Neonatologists.

NICU facility at Sigma Hospital is headed by Dr. Rajeshwari Madappa, Director and Chief Paediatrician, Sigma; Dr. Nanditha Nandakumar, Senior Neonatologist and Paediatrician, Sigma and Dr. M.S. Kanya, Senior Paediatrician, Sigma.

Majority of the babies are born without any problems. One in 10 babies are born premature and a few others too may need specialist medical care and for this, they need admission to NICU. Some of the many reasons a baby might need NICU admission are: difficulties with breathing, prematurity, low birth weight, infections, jaundice, low blood sugar, etc. Some babies may be born with birth defects (for example heart defects, problems with development of gut) for which would need immediate NICU attention with surgical and or medical interventions.

A few babies are born with genetic or inherited conditions, which again need specialist input immediately in NICU.

NICU in Sigma Hospital, Mysuru, is fully equipped and staffed 24x7, to care for critically ill neonates. The facilities include neonatal ventilators, bubble CPAP, high flow nasal cannula oxygen, LED phototherapy units, total parenteral nutrition, bedside X Ray, ECHO and neurosonogram to name a few.

The Hospital has a fully equipped 24-hour lab and pharmacy, in-house dietician and lactation consultant. Being a hospital specialising in renal diseases, Sigma NICU is also capable of managing neonates requiring peritoneal dialysis. Sigma NICU has successfully treated many sick babies in and around Mysuru at affordable rates for the last 10 years.

Sigma Hospital has now expanded services to sick babies born at other hospitals also.

Mystery shrouds teen's death at ginger shed

Gruesome incident at Dasanapura village in Hunsur; Relatives stage flash stir in front of Police Station

Mutturaj

Hunsur, Feb. 21 (BS)- A teenage student was found dead allegedly under mysterious circumstances at a shed near his farm in Dasanapura village near Ratnapuri Colony, Hunsur taluk in the district on Monday.

Mutturaj (17), son of Ravikumar, was found hanging at the ginger shed next to his farm in Dasanapura, triggering suspicions about the nature of his death. Ravikumar, who saw his son's body, has alleged that his son was beaten to death.

It is alleged that, Mutturaj was found speaking with his classmate girl belonging to a different faith near a canal in the village, during the jathra of Anjaneyaswamy-Jamal Bibi Urus on Sunday night at Ratnapuri. Some of the youths had video recorded their meeting and had sent the video to the girl's elder brother.

Mutturaj, who had returned home after writing his 1st PUC exams on Monday afternoon, got a phone call from the girl's brother. He allegedly went near the canal in the village, only to face the wrath of girl's brother and his friends, who assaulted him, before snatching his phone.

Mutturaj's relative Avinash informed Ravikumar about the incident. Ravikumar came looking for his son to Ratnapuri, when Avinash showed him the youths who had assaulted his son. The assailant youths fled from the spot after throwing Mutturaj's cell phone.

When Ravikumar started searching for his son, found the body of the latter in the ginger shed next to his agricultural field.

Following a complaint by Ravikumar to Hunsur Rural Police Station, Police, who visited the spot, shifted the body to General Hospital at around 11 pm.

On Tuesday, the body was shifted to the mortuary of K.R. Hospital in Mysuru where the post-mortem was conducted before handing over the body to relatives.

The relatives and villagers staged a protest by keeping the body of Mutturaj in front of Hunsur Rural Police Station demanding the arrest of the accused, who beat him to death for no reasons and hung his body.

Dy.SP Gopalakrishna, along with Inspector Devendra, made a bid to convince irate relatives on protest to withdraw the stir, assuring to initiate action as per law. However, the protesters appeared defiant and continued with the agitation till the arrest of those involved in the case. Later, the Police promised to arrest the accused within 24 hours, prompting the protesters to withdraw the protest.

Consumer Forum orders developer to refund with interest

Mysuru, Feb. 21 (BLU&BS)- Mysuru District Consumer Disputes Redressal Forum has ordered a site developer to pay back the customer along with Rate of Interest (ROI) for failing to honour the commitment.

Srikanta Bhat, a retired employee and a resident of Chikka Thoguru in Bengaluru, had paid Rs. 3.96 lakh to Gurumallesh, Managing Director of Real Value Consumer Network Private Ltd., Ramakrishnanagar in 2014. However, even after 10 years, Gurumallesh had allegedly failed to either provide the site or refund the amount, much to the agony of Bhat. Bhat had moved Mysuru District Consumer Disputes Redressal Forum seeking justice.

After hearing the arguments of both the parties, the Forum ordered Gurumallesh to refund Rs. 3.9 lakh along with 10 percent rate of interest applicable from the day he received the amount, within a period of two months. If failed to comply with the order, he has to refund the amount with 15 percent rate of interest applicable from the day of order till payment, according to the Forum's order dated Feb. 5.

That apart, Rs. 10,000 should be paid for service lapse and Rs. 3,000 towards case expenses totalling Rs. 13,000, within two months from the date of order.

Any non-compliance of the order by Gurumallesh attracts a punitive action with jail imprisonment as per Section 72 of Consumer Protection Act and imposition of fine. Besides, Bhat is entitled to file a criminal case against Gurumallesh, added the Forum in its order.

Man fakes as site owner, sells property with forged papers

Police on lookout for absconding accused

Mysuru, Feb. 21 (SBD&KS)- Udayagiri Police are on a lookout for a man who had sold a site of a person after fabricating documents besides getting the site registered in the buyer's name. The accused has gone absconding and the Police now seek public help in tracing the accused.

Fake Mahadeva

The genuine owner of the site is Mahadeva, retired employee of Government ITI and a resident of K.R. Mohalla.

However, the accused (whose real identity is not known), impersonating as Mahadeva, had registered the site in the name of Parveen Taj, the buyer.

In 1987, CITB (now MUDA) had allotted a site under Ashamandira Scheme, near Shivanna Circle, Devanur Layout in Rajivnagar 1st Stage (Survey No. 2453). Mahadeva, the original owner, who had obtained the Provisional Title Deed, had not constructed a house due to financial issues, leaving the site vacant.

In the meantime, Mahadeva had lost the original documents of the site while changing the house and he had lodged a complaint in this regard at KR Police Station on Oct. 13, 2020. After a few days, MUDA officials, who came to his (Mahadeva) house, told him that they had received an application seeking change in Khata and they had come to confirm it. Shocked on hearing it, Mahadeva told the MUDA officials that he had neither sold his site nor had applied for Khata change.

Later, Mahadeva obtained a copy of his site documents through RTI and on going through the documents, he came to know that the accused, claiming to the original owner of the site, had sold the same to one Parveen Taj and had got the site registered in the buyer's name at the Mysuru East Sub-Registrar's Office on July 16, 2020, following which the buyer had applied for the Khata change based on registration document.

It is learnt that prior to getting the site registered in the name of the buyer, the accused, after creating fake Aadhaar card and other important documents in the name of Mahadeva, had submitted an application at MCC and had got the Khata in his name.

On Feb. 12, 2021, site owner Mahadeva lodged a complaint at Udayagiri Police Station. Now, the Cops have launched a man hunt to nab the accused. Members of the public, having any information about the accused, may call Udayagiri Police Station on Ph: 0821-2418309 or Mob: 94808-02234 or 94806-75100.

Learning Life's Lessons from Fali S. Nariman: India's Advocate Extraordinaire ! – 1

I am saddened to read the news of passing away of a transparent, magnetic, wise and learned legal mind of our times Fali S. Nariman.

I have read his autobiography many years ago and, having studied law myself, read it again between the lines annotating some points he had dealt with concerning the Court cases and Government policies.

We must remember, in India, what does not appear in media or public speeches and discourses, appears in books written by the decision-makers and leaders of different walks of life. That's how earlier, before 2014, we could know the malafide intentions of the immediate post-independence Governments in their discriminatory policies about education, religion, reservation, Government grants, benefits etc. Fali S. Nariman specifically mentions two cases where the majority community did not get justice.

This is the first of three Abracadabras that I wrote and published online of Star of Mysore on 18th, 23rd and 27th May 2020 during COVID lockdown. It was later published in Star of Mysore hard copy on 12th, 13th and 14th July 2020. Now, as a tribute to that great legal luminary and more than that a great human being, we are once again reproducing this Abracadabra.—KBG

He then talks about how 'Some unknown person' gives you a helping hand. This is what he says, "Life is full of surprises. Whether you do or do not believe in Destiny or in Providence or in God, be sure that — out of the blue — some stranger, some unknown person, at one time or the other, will reach out and give you a helping hand as you journey along on the rough roads of life. I had no 'Godfathers' in Bombay. But God helped."

Eight years ago I walked into our local Sapna Book House and bought a book titled "Fali S. Nariman, Before Memory Fades..." It was an autobiography in the form of a collection of reminiscences.

Having studied law and served as an 'adjournment' lawyer, or as Nariman says of this period as "More watching than Pleading," for a senior before making a course-correction in my career, I was interested to know about this celebrity lawyer who made it to the acme of this competitive profession. A refugee from Burma following Japanese occupation of Burma during the World War II, he was born on 10, January 1929 at the General Hospital in Rangoon, then British India. He is of Persian ancestry (Iran), his religion being Zoroastrian (Parsi).

Interestingly, our Congress politician and former Union Minister Jairam Ramesh who, after a visit to Azerbaijan, once part of Persia (Iran), wrote, with apparent desire to please Fali Nariman that when he was in Baku, capital of Azerbaijan, he saw the statue of Azerbaijan's famous politician Nariman Narimanov and told his 'guide' that "one of India's best known lawyers and one of India's most lovable public personalities is also Nariman."

Here, I recall the words of Brutus in the Shakespearean play "Julius Caesar" wherein Brutus says, "But when I tell him he hates flatterers, He says he does, being then most flattered." But I must hasten to say here that neither Jairam Ramesh is Brutus nor Nariman the Caesar in this context. I was only thinking of shades of flattery in our life! Let it be.

However, the instant response from Fali Nariman shows him as a humble and noble person sans pretentions. He writes to Jairam thanking him for the information but says, "...But I assure you we were and are Parsi Zoroastrian (of Persian origin) hailing from India! But how sweet of you to have thought of me in such affectionate terms."

Yes, the word "sweet." The Oxford thesaurus had many synonyms for the word sweet. May be, sweet Fali Nariman chose the word as befitting a person like Jairam Ramesh, known to be highly courteous and nuanced. Let this pass for now.

The thin Chapter One of the book is where I discovered the 'destiny' of each man playing its role as the man moves along in his life's journey. I found the very essence of the whole book in this Chapter. The rest of the book simply deals with pursuit of life in its various, multiple forms common to all human beings — as pursuing a profession, finding a spouse, begetting children, working hard to earn money, gain name, position and fame.

I guess in each individual's life, anywhere in the world, there appears to be many turning points. Each turning point will shape the future of the man. Fali Nariman says, "Our arrival in New Delhi marked the first turning point in my life — landing as a refugee from Burma, uprooted from home and hearth."

According to Fali Nariman, the next turning point in his life was when he joined the Bombay Bar in November 1950.

He then talks about how 'Some unknown person' gives you a helping hand. This is what he says, "Life is full of surprises. Whether you do or do not believe in Destiny or in Providence or in God, be sure that — out of the blue — some stranger, some unknown person, at one time or the other, will reach out and give you a helping hand as you journey along on the rough roads of life. I had no 'Godfathers' in Bombay. But God helped."

After working as a trainee — apprentice in a law firm — he was very lucky (and this could also be a third turning point) to secure entry into one of the most prestigious 'Chambers' in Bombay — the Chambers of Sir Jamshedji Kanga. He never looked back thereafter.

Kanga's Chamber was in the High Court building and Fali Nariman gives the reader an insight into three different impressions of JUSTICE as depicted in the carvings on the stone facade of the High Court building.

In short, the Victorian Model or Ideal of Justice (with the lady standing blindfolded), the Indian Model or Ideal of Justice where the lady is not blindfolded and in the third Model the architect has carved, at the base of the High Court building tower, the face and front paws of a monkey! Is it the Architect's Model of Justice!? Well, does he suggest that if Law, as said in jest, is an ass, Justice is a monkey? I do not know. Fali Nariman was silent.

Rightly, Nariman emphasises the importance of the Senior Advocate (Lawyer's Chamber) in whose office a junior or apprentice lawyer begins his career. According to Nariman, when one has to name the great and famous lawyers, it is like also mentioning the "Chamber." He says, it reminded him that "When you mention a famous race horse, they ask you, 'from which stable?' The stable is important. It establishes the ancestry and the breed."

Likewise, "When you name a (great and famous) lawyer who has done well, people ask: From which Chamber?" The Chamber is important. Nariman was lucky to start his career from Kanga's Chambers.

Nariman recalls a story, told by Kanga, about founding of the famous Willingdon Sports Club in Bombay. Lord Willingdon, Governor of Bombay (1913-1918), had invited (an Indian) Sir Mahadeva Bhaskar Chaubal, Member of the Viceroy's Executive Council, who was visiting Bombay, to a lunch at the famous exclusive Club for whites only, known as Byculla Club. The lunch was arranged but when the chief guest Sir Bhaskar Chaubal arrived at the Byculla Club he was refused admission. 'No Indians please,' said the Club Management to him at the door. The story does not say what the Governor Lord Willingdon did except feeling 'furious' when the Club overruled the Governor's guest-list. The story does not also say how and where the Indian-origin chief guest was served luncheon.

The story goes that Lord Willingdon then decided to establish such a Club where there are no distinction and a man of sufficient social position can be admitted. Interestingly, Sir M.B. Chaubal was one of its Founder-Members! Politics keeps changing, society keeps evolving so also individual man's life guided by providence and destiny. There are many gems Fali Nariman has adorned the book with that relate to humanity.

Fali S. Nariman passes away

Supreme Court Advocate Brijesh Kalappa met Fali S. Nariman on Feb. 17 along with his son Dhanush Thimmaiah. In a Facebook post, Brijesh Kalappa said, "Dhanush and I called on Fali S. Nariman on Saturday, Feb. 17. He was a bit under the weather. His eyes were moist and he complained of having a cold. We spent a good 30 minutes in his company until he said he wanted to rest. The legend passed away today."

Nariman also appeared in the important SC Advocate-on-Record Association case (which led to the collegium system), the TMA Pai case (on the scope of minority rights under Article 30) etc. In June 1975, he resigned as the Additional Solicitor General of India to protest against the decision of the Indira Gandhi government to declare an Emergency.

A fierce votary of civil liberties and secularism, Nariman was an important public voice whose critical opinions about judicial developments carried much weight. His autobiography 'Before Memory Fades' is a widely read book, especially among law students and young lawyers, acting as a source of inspiration for them.

'The State of Nation' and 'God Save the Hon'ble Supreme Court' are some of his other books. "I have lived and flourished in a secular India. In the fullness of time if God wills, I would also like to die in a secular India," he wrote in his autobiography.

Prime Minister Narendra Modi said that he was pained at Nariman's death, terming the jurist one of the "most outstanding legal minds and intellectuals".

Chief Justice of India D.Y. Chandrachud began the day's proceedings in the Supreme Court by condoling Nariman's death. "Mr. Attorney General, we mourn the sad demise and passing away of Fali Nariman. He was a great giant of an intellectual," Chandrachud told Attorney General R. Venkataramani.

Arun Yogiraj's masterpiece at Mysore Medical College

By Dr. Asha Shekar,
Professor, Department of Physiology, MMC&RI

As the nation commemorated the 'Pran Pratishta' ceremony of Ram Lalla (Balak Ram) idol in Ayodhya, sculpted by Arun Yogiraj of Mysuru, it is worth reflecting on his noteworthy connection with Mysore Medical College and Research Institute (MMC&RI).

Notably, Yogiraj has gifted yet another remarkable creation to MMC&RI, the statue of Maharshi Sushruta, now displayed in the newly constructed Library and Lecture Hall Block.

Reflecting on 2021, amidst the global halt caused by the COVID-19 pandemic, Dr. C.G. Narasimhan (Dr. CGN), a renowned senior surgeon from Mysuru, under whom I once served as an assistant at Kamakshi Hospital, was pleasantly surprised to stumble upon a significant sighting online.

The Royal College of Surgeons in Melbourne, Australia, proudly showcased a statue of Maharshi Sushruta, often hailed as the Father of Indian Surgery, within its campus. This statue was graciously donated by Cardiovascular Surgeon Dr. K.M. Cherian.

Dr. CGN swiftly resolved to procure a statue of Sushruta, marking the third of its kind in medical colleges across India, for his alma mater, MMC&RI — one statue is at AIMS New Delhi and another at Trivandrum.

The idea took root when he reached out to Arun Yogiraj, whose father and grandfather had been his patients in years past. Arun Yogiraj, amidst his busy schedule sculpting figures like Subhas Chandra Bose, visited Dr. CGN's residence, where they meticulously analysed the web image of Sushruta statue at The Royal

Dr. CGN with Arun Yogiraj

College of Surgeons.

Beyond the monetary value, it was Dr. CGN's gesture towards his alma mater that held significance. Despite Yogiraj's ongoing projects, including the monumental Ram Lalla idol, it took nearly two years to meticulously craft Sushruta statue, evident in its intricate details captured in close-up images.

Gratitude extends to Dr. C.P. Nanjaraj, the former Dean and Director, and our current Dean & Director Dr. K.R. Dakshayini, along with Cheluvaraj (uncle of Arun Yogiraj), for their support in placing the majestic four-foot Maharshi Sushruta statue, carved from Krishna Shile, atop a two-foot pedestal in the foyer of the lecture hall and library block at MMC&RI.

We take immense pride as we walk past the serene idol of the Father of Surgery, serving as an inspiration to budding medical students. Last year, the statue was unveiled by Dr. G.N. Narayana Reddy, MMC&RI's oldest alumnus at 92 years, and former Director of NIMHANS, Bengaluru.

Our hearts swell with pride, knowing that the sculptor behind the emotionally stirring Ram Lalla idol in Ayodhya is the same artist who crafted the statue of Maharshi Sushruta. Dr. CGN's gesture stands as a testament to his gratitude towards his alma mater, serving to inspire the young minds of this esteemed medical college.

Dr. Venkataraju takes charge as

KIADB Special Land Acquisition Officer

Dr. Venkataraju

Mysuru, Feb. 21 (DM)- Senior KAS Officer Dr. N.C. Venkataraju took charge as the KIADB (Karnataka Industrial Areas Development Board) Special Land Acquisition Officer (SLAO) here recently.

Priyadarshini, who was earlier serving as the SLAO, has been transferred and posted as a teaching faculty at Administrative Training Institute (ATI) in the city.

Dr. Venkataraju had earlier too served in Mysuru as Assistant Commissioner and MUDA Secretary, before being posted to Labour Department at Bengaluru.

Process on for election surveillance, monitoring

Set up check-posts strategically across Mysuru instead of replicating previous locations: DC

Mysuru, Feb. 21 (RK&BCT)- With the Lok Sabha elections round the corner, the Mysuru District Administration has initiated the establishment of checkpoint posts on National Highways, State Highways and other roads traversing the district, particularly those linking to neighbouring districts and States.

"These checkpoint posts will play a pivotal role in preventing influx of cash, household articles, jewellery, liquor and drugs into Mysuru District, thereby ensuring free and fair elections by curtailing attempts by political parties to influence voters," stated Deputy Commissioner Dr. K.V. Rajendra, who is also the District Electoral Officer.

Addressing a workshop held yesterday at Kalamandira for election officers, including Assistant Electoral Officers (AEO), Video Viewing Team (VVT), Media Certification and Monitoring Committee (MCMC), Flying Squad (FST), Static Surveillance (SST) and Video Surveillance (VST) teams, Dr. Rajendra emphasised the enforcement of the Model Code of Conduct (MCC), which becomes effective immediately after the election notification.

Urging officers not to delay in forming checkpoint posts and surveillance teams until the Model Code of Conduct is enforced, the Deputy Commissioner urged them to commence preparations promptly to conduct the elections in an unbiased manner. He advised taking necessary measures immediately, so that the curbs are announced soon after the election announcement.

During the workshop, officers were briefed on tasks to be undertaken once the elections are declared. While advising against leaving room for suspicion, Dr. Rajendra encouraged officers to seek guidance from higher-ranking officials in case of doubts or confusion in executing orders and enforcing guidelines.

He also underlined the Model Code of Conduct's validity until election results were announced, urging officials to set up check-posts strategically across the district instead of replicating previous locations.

Seizure of cash, liquor

"Resolve matters at your level and consult senior officers only if disputes or issues extend beyond your jurisdiction and necessitate the intervention of higher authorities," he said. The officers were told about steps to be taken in case of seizure of cash, liquor and other valuables and directed them to take action immediately after getting information on MCC violation for strict enforcement of the poll code.

The DC recommended organising teams and furnishing them with structured work schedules to ensure effective implementation. Emphasising the importance of thorough planning, he underscored the unique nature of this Lok Sabha election and the necessity for proactive management of challenges.

Dr. Rajendra instructed officers to ensure that political parties obtain mandatory permissions for election campaigning, ensuring no unauthorised usage of Government buildings during rallies. He stressed the importance of conducting campaigns without causing inconvenience to the public. During election period, officials were reminded of their duty to diligently carry out their responsibilities. Any negligence or delay would be met with strict repercussions, he added.

City Police Commissioner Ramesh Banoth, Superintendent of Police Seema Latkar, Zilla Panchayat CEO K.M. Gayathri, Additional Deputy Commissioner Shivaraj and a host of officers drawn from various Departments were present.

'Tri-Junction' meeting on LS polls, naxal menace held

Mysuru, Feb. 21 (MTY&BCT)- An inter-State Tri-Junction meeting convened by senior Police Officers from Karnataka, Tamil Nadu and Kerala, along with forest officials, aimed to strategise steps to combat the transportation of illegal goods across borders before and during elections and to address the issue of naxalite activities, which are reportedly prevalent in the border regions of the three States.

Chaired by the Deputy Inspector General of Police Saravana Sundar of Coimbatore region in Tamil Nadu, the meeting took place on Tuesday at the Forest Department auditorium of Mudhumalai Tiger Reserve in Tamil Nadu.

It saw the participation of the Superintendent of Police (SP) from Chamarajanagar district of Karnataka Padmini Sahu, Nilgiri SP Sundaravadivelu, Erode SP G. Jawahar, SP of Malappuram in Kerala, Shashidharan and other Police officials. Forest officials from Mudhumalai, Bandipur and various divisions also engaged in extensive discussions regarding procedures to be followed during the Lok Sabha elections.

With the enforcement of Model Code of Conduct within next week or ten days, both the Police and Forest Departments recognised the need to establish check-posts promptly.

Apart from election-related matters, the meeting addressed sightings of naxals in Karnataka-Kerala border and in Wayanad, Kerala, in recent times. A database containing information about naxals operating in forests across the three States was shared during the meeting. Officers presented their experiences through power point presentations, shedding light on the challenges associated with combing operations.

Officers highlighted the naxals' purported plan to establish a 'red corridor' from Jharkhand to Wayanad in Kerala, operating based on certain ideologies. While recent sightings have been concentrated in the Kodagu-Kerala region, the possibility of their movement in forests of Mysuru and Chamarajanagar could not be dismissed.

The discussion also encompassed the coordination of border check-posts with neighbouring States, particularly in light of Lok Sabha elections. Concerns regarding potential unlawful activities during the elections were emphasised, with a focus on ensuring peaceful and impartial elections through mutual cooperation between Police and Forest Departments in border districts.

WORD OF THE DAY

Maladroit

Pronunciation: mal-uh-DROYT.
Meaning: Maladroit is an adjective that means "incompetent" or "very awkward." It is usually used in formal speech and writing, and often describes people who lack skill in handling situations.
Origin: Maladroit is perhaps an awkward fit for casual speech—outside of the occasional Weezer album title, one most often encounters it in formal writing—but you can remember its meaning by breaking it down into its French building blocks. The first is the word mal, meaning "badly," which may be familiar from English words including malaise ("a vague sense of mental or moral ill-being") and malodorous ("having a bad odor"). The second is adroit, meaning "having or showing skill, cleverness, or resourcefulness in handling situations." Middle French speakers put those pieces together as maladroit to describe the clumsy and incompetent among them, and English speakers borrowed the word intact. We'd adopted adroit from them a short time before.
Example: "Barry Allen, a.k.a. the Flash, is the dweebiest Justice League superhero. He's also the most endearing. Barry's got a bit of Peter Parker's boyishness. He's maladroit in a way that's equally maddening and winning."
— Mark Feeney, The Boston Globe, 16 June 2023

THE ODD WORD

Kerfuffle

A commotion or fuss.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Sweet Nothings

Meaning: The phrase 'Sweet Nothings' means romantic things that people who are in love say to each other.
Origin: The earliest known written example illustrating the origin of the term "sweet nothings" was found in the London magazine Belgravia in a poem by Mary Elizabeth Braddon. Dated 1776, the poem included a stanza that read "As low he bend o'er her he loves so dear, to whisper some sweet nothing in her ear."
Example: Joffrey kept leaning across the table, whispering sweet nothings in her ear.

IPL set to begin on March 22

New Delhi, Feb. 21- The much-anticipated Indian Premier League (IPL) is set to begin on March 22 and will be held entirely in the country despite the coinciding general elections, League Chairman Arun Dhumal told media on Tuesday.

The elections are expected to be held in April - May and that is the main reason why the schedule for the IPL's 17th edition has not been unveiled yet.

Dhumal said, to begin with, only the schedule of the first 15 days will be announced and the roster for the remaining games will be decided after the announcement of the general election dates. The dates of the Lok Sabha polls are expected to be announced early next month.

"We are looking at a March 22 start for the tournament. We are working closely with the government agencies and we will first release the initial schedule. The entire tournament will be held in India," said Dhumal.

Only in 2009, the IPL, in its entirety, was held overseas (South Africa) while the 2014 edition was partially held in the UAE due to the general elections. However, in 2019, the tournament was held in India despite the elections.

Considering the T20 World Cup begins within days of the cash-rich league's conclusion, the final is likely to be held on May 26. India will play their opening World Cup fixture against Ireland in New York on June 5 while the ICC showpiece begins with the USA and Canada clash on June 1.

As is the norm, the IPL opener will be played between the last year's finalists, the winners Chennai Super Kings in this case and runners-up Gujarat Titans.

The players' auction for the 2024 season was held in December last year and Australian pacer Mitchell Starc became the most expensive player in the history of the league after being bought by Kolkata Knight Riders (KKR) for Rs. 24.75 crore.
